

NICE inContact CXone Microsoft Teams

Consolidated agent desktop for fast, personalized service

NICE inContact CXone for Microsoft Teams is a pre-built unified communications and contact center integration that powers company-wide collaboration for faster service. The CXone agent—embedded seamlessly within Teams—provides full contact center controls and synchronizes Teams contacts and presence information, for one-click access to experts across your organization. With frictionless collaboration and a customizable Teams workspace, agents can resolve complex issues faster than ever. Global, carrier-grade voice services safeguard every interaction and reduce costs with an easy-to-deploy integration. All this—plus, our contact center expertise and strong Microsoft partnership—delivers the most robust contact center and Teams integration available.

Connected agents, connected experiences

Simplify and streamline the agent experience with an intuitive consolidated desktop that seamlessly integrates into Microsoft Teams.

- Increase agent productivity with full CXone contact center controls embedded within the Teams application, eliminating time spent toggling between communications applications.
- Easily access available SMEs using the CXone directory that automatically syncs Teams users and their presence.
- Provide effortless access to the websites or applications agents need by using the Teams' custom workspace area that appears beside the CXone agent.

Easy team collaboration, faster resolution

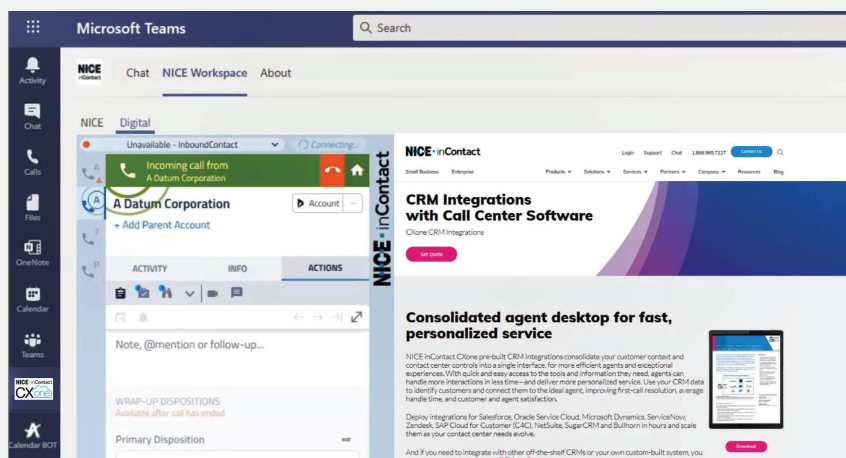

Access experts anywhere in your organization, in real-time, to quickly resolve complex customer interactions.

- Resolve complex issues faster by quickly finding and connecting with available subject-matter experts, no matter where they are in your organization.
- Click to connect with SMEs via voice or email using the CXone directory that automatically synchronizes Teams contacts and displays their presence status, or by simply using the existing Teams' chat functionality.
- Transform Teams from a basic soft-phone into a customer experience endpoint, eliminating the need for separate communication endpoints and the time lost switching between them.

BENEFITS

- Increase agent productivity by eliminating time spent toggling between CXone and Teams
- Resolve complex issues faster with easy access to subject-matter experts
- Improve CSAT by seamlessly connecting customers to experts anywhere in your organization
- Reduce dropped calls and abandon rates using high-quality, carrier-grade voice services
